Dear Deputy Nichita,

Greetings! At Autism Speaks we are dedicated to advocating and raising autism awareness, investing in cutting-edge science and supporting all individuals and families affected by the complex disorder. We are also committed to sharing ideas and mobilizing professionals and governments around the world.

We would like to cordially invite you to the 3rd Advocacy Leadership Network (ALN) conference planned for October 13-14, 2016 in Washington, D.C. at the Hyatt Regency Washington Capitol Hill. The ALN is comprised of autism advocates and stakeholders from families, professional communities and governments. The overall goal of the ALN is to organize and mobilize the global autism community to address consensus priorities through both face-to-face meetings and the use of social media.

The conference is an opportunity to interact with global autism leaders and exchange ideas, experiences, and best practices as well as identify shared priorities and ideas for collaborative activities. We will establish community-based dissemination channels and discuss new awareness and advocacy opportunities, such as the World Health Organization Parent Skills Training, through our Global Autism Public Health (GAPH) Initiative.

Together we can make swift, significant progress for the 70-million children, teens, and adults worldwide with autism. We hope you will be able to join us.

Please contact Sophie Kondor at +1 (646) 385-8595 or via email at sophie.kondor@autismspeaks.org with any questions about the event.

We look forward to working with you.

Warmest Regards,
